WFLO International Projects

The World Food Logistics Organization (WFLO) working with its partner IACSC, IRTA, and IARW create an integrated cold chain network in developing countries around the world. Experience across the entire cold chain has placed WFLO and its affiliated organizations in a unique position to draw upon technical, scientific, and human resources to produce comprehensive strategic plans and cold chain analysis reports. In recognition of the capacity these organizations have demonstrated, IARW-WFLO-IACSC-IRTA have been called on over the years to lend expertise to numerous global improvement projects. The United States Agency for International Development (USAID), the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), the United States Trade and Development Agency (USTDA), and other major international development NGOs have turned to WFLO and its affiliated organizations to provide technical assistance in logistics operations, conduct cold chain feasibility and/or assessment studies, and build capacity of industry associations. Projects include:

COUNTRY	PROJECT NAME	DONOR/PARTNER	LIFE CYCLE
Serbia	Agribusiness Development Project	USAID-/ DAI	2008-2009
South Africa	Partnership for Food Industry Development (PFID) in Meats, Seafood and Poultry	USAID-EGAT LSU	2005-2010
Zambia & Togo	Highly Pathogenic Avian Influenza (HPAI) Mitigation and Prevention	USAID LSU	2008-2009
Nicaragua	Partnership for Food Industry Development (PFID) in Meats, Seafood and Poultry	USAID LSU	2005-2009
Ghana	Pineapple Packhouse Project	MCC Texas A&M	2008
MENA (Egypt, Jordan, Morocco, and Iraq)	Middle-East and North Africa Observational Visit	USTDA People's Group	2009
India	India AKI Cold Store Operations Course	USDA	2008-2009

There is a high demand for high value services overseas, like experienced engineering and design and advanced cold storage technologies. Companies and governments in international markets are willing to pay a premium for the best technology and services available on the market. There is huge potential for growth internationally and GCCA international work can be your company's window of opportunity.

GCCA's international programs help communities and countries where projects take place and, ultimately, also benefits GCCA Members and strengthens the global cold chain at large. However, this work would not be possible without full participatory support from membership. There are numerous opportunities to contribute and many projects include fully-paid travel and boarding expenses.

Interested parties are encouraged to contact GCCA Director of International Programs Richard Tracy at +1 703 373 4300 or rtracy@gcca.org
